- This lesson our class was quite reduced. We didn't start by correcting 作业 because hardly anyone had done it. If you would like me to mark it, hand it to me next lesson. Instead we looked closely at all the good stuff to be found in the most recent Quizlet:
- <https://quizlet.com/275867103/roundwood-1-more-vocab-no-pinyin-flash-cards/>
- Getting to know this set well will help build a strong foundation.

Try to read the following

We looked at the following vocabulary:

工作 gōngzuò job/work
你做什么工作?

nǐ zuò shénme gōngzuò?
What job do you do? (Lit. You do what job?)

你几岁? Nǐ jǐ suì?
How old are you (for young children)
你多大? Nǐ duō dà?
For older people

了 'le' marks a change of state and can be added to the end of a question about age. It gives the sense of 'How old are you now?'

你多大了?
nǐ duō dà le?

- gōng
① 工 work
- zuò
② 作 do; work
- gōng zuò
